Western Center Village - 1825. Showing Expansion and Development Over 30 years.

Map 35 illustrates the center village of Western Massachusetts in 1825. Going along with map 36 shows the population increase and industrial growth over 30 years. At this time Western was still part of Greater Brookfield at this time. Demonstrated on this map are many houses, businesses roads and a dam in the Quaboag River just to the north of the bridge. One of the businesses shown is the Grist Mill, which was powered off the dam.
